

The Pittsburgh Savoyards Present

HMS Pinafore

OR
The Lass who Loved a Sailor

Come join Captain Corcoran, Little Buttercup, Ralph Rackstraw, Josephine, Joseph Porter, K.C.B. and of course Dick Deadeye in one of the most popular Gilbert and Sullivan works today!

Pinafore originally opened May 28, 1878 at the Opera Comique. It then enjoyed a run of 571 performances, and remains one of the top three shows in popularity today.

It's your typical class struggle. Captain's daughter falls in love with (Gasp!) a lowly sailor. Much angst ensues - would you expect any less from G&S?

The Savoyards would also like to inform you of our 62nd Season Schedule.

We will be performing Gondoliers Fall 2000, and Iolanthe Spring 2001.

Purchase your 62nd Season Tickets now and save $5. We hope to see you there!

When and Where?

March 2000: 3-5, 10-12, and 17-19th.

Andrew Carnegie Free Library Music Hall

We will perform Friday and Saturday at 8:00 pm and Sunday at 2:30 pm.

Directions:

From Pittsburgh, take 376 West through the Fort Pitt Tunnel to 279 South towards the Airport. Take Exit 3 (Carnegie/Heidelberg) and bear right at the fork (toward Carnegie)

You should be on Mansfield Blvd. Go through the first light and make a left at the next onto Broadway. Proceed through the first stop sign (E. Main St.) and bear right up the hill. The Library will be on your right as you climb the hill. The Music Hall entrance is located opposite of the Library entrance.

Parking is limited, so bring a few friends, (perhaps aunts, cousins, and sisters by the dozens.) and make a night of it!

Stuff to make the Lawyers happy

All seating is by general admission. Tickets will be honored at any performance. All sales are final, no refunds. Dates and program are subject to change without notice. Warning: This operetta contains explicit lyrics some listeners may find objectionable, to wit: the big, big D. If you find this word objectionable, please stay at home, board up your windows, and remove all external sources of sound, including but not limited to your telephone, computer, television, and radio.
