PITTSBURGH SAVOYARDS OFFER FREE TICKETS TO LOCAL NONPROFITS

The Pittsburgh Savoyards, Pittsburgh's oldest theater company, is offering to local nonprofit organizations a limited number of free tickets to the opening weekend of its upcoming Pittsburgh premiere of Gilbert and Sullivan's Utopia, Limited (March 7, 8 and 9, 2014).

"We love our community, and we know how challenging it can be for nonprofits to advance their missions, raise funds and reward overworked volunteers," says Savoyards Trustee Marc Daffner. "To celebrate our 75th Anniversary Season, we decided to raise awareness of our own mission while benefitting the groups that help make Pittsburgh so special." Since 1938, the Pittsburgh Savoyards have dedicated themselves to entertaining area audiences with the brilliant Victorian musical comedies from the sometimes-stormy partnership between lyricist Sir W.S. Gilbert and composer Sir Arthur Sullivan.

The free tickets will be for general-admission seats, and will be honored at any of the three opening-weekend performances of Utopia, Limited at the Andrew Carnegie Free Library Music Hall in Carnegie, Pennsylvania. Local nonprofit groups with an educational mission will be preferred. Interested organizations should contact The Pittsburgh Savoyards at P.O. Box 44065, Pittsburgh, PA 15205, or call 412-734-8476.
